Explanation of and Rationale for Proposed Change: (Please use additional pages if necessary. For new programs, please include any relevant supporting documentation such as student learning outcomes, projected enrollments, letters support, and departmental handouts.)

The changes proposed for the BFA in Industrial Design include:

- A modification of the selection process that will reduce the time that students must wait to declare the major. Previously students participated in a portfolio review and a one quarter selection class. The new curriculum will allow us to select students into the major following a one day June admission exam.
- A redesigned group of sophomore level classes that will be shared with Visual Communication Design and the proposed new BA in Design Studies. These classes are structured to enroll 70-90 students thus allowing us to admit a larger number of majors to this degree
- Students will be able to complete all requirements to degree in 180 credits and four years.

Please see attached letter of explanation, chart, and new course proposals.
