Hi Juan,

Judi and I sent in the curriculum changes that we discussed with you, in order to allow Art majors easier access to DXARTS courses, as options to fulfill some of their studio art credits. Per our conversation on Tuesday, would you confirm for Jennifer Payne (cc'd on this message) from the Curriculum Office that the DXARTS department approves art student access to DXARTS courses?

Thank you so much. Take care,
Liz

Hi all
I spoke with Danny Hoffman. He was enthusiastic and brought it to the attention of Janelle Taylor their chair. I will send him and her an email to get an official approval. This class is an option not a requirement.

Hi Ellen!

Great to hear from you, if only in this rather bureaucratic connection!

Yes, you have our approval to list this as an option. I think it is a great idea, and I would think that having your students in the class will be a benefit to the learning environment of the class, as well as hopefully benefitting them. So please do go ahead with that 1503.

Miss you!

Janelle

Hi Danny and Hi Janelle,

How are you both! I hope well.

We are in the process of putting through some curricular changes to the Photomedia BFA major. After talking to you Danny I went ahead and listed Anthro 209 as an option for our students to take. I think many of our students would be interested and greatly benefit from this class. We have 18-20 sophomores, juniors and seniors-- about 55 majors at any given time. I don't think it would overwhelm your class in any way. It is one option of several others and I think you would get 5 or 10 each year taking it. The Curriculum Office is reviewing our requested changes and wanted to know if we have your approval to list it as an option. Would that be possible?

thanks for your consideration -- and happy memorial day weekend!
